1. Purpose of policy and guiding principles

- 1.1 The purpose of this policy is to define The Partnership Trust's ('The Trust's') commitment to equality in all that it does.
- 1.2 The Trust is committed to equality in both employment and education provision. We recognise the diverse nature of our schools and their communities, and aim to ensure that pupils, parents/carers, governors, employees, contractors, Trustees and those who may potentially join the Trust community, are treated fairly, and with dignity and respect.
- 1.3 The Trust opposes all forms of discrimination and welcomes its duties under the Equality Act 2010 ('the Act').
- 1.4 The Trust undertakes not to discriminate unlawfully, or treat people less favourably, on the grounds of the Protected Characteristics set out below and as defined by the Equality Act 2010 ("the Act") (and any future amendments to the Act), or any other ground that cannot be justified.
 - age;
 - disability;
 - gender reassignment;
 - marriage and civil partnership;
 - pregnancy and maternity;
 - race;
 - religion or belief;
 - sex;
 - sexual orientation
- 1.5 The Trust recognises that it is also unlawful to discriminate by association or perception, e.g. treating a student unfairly based on the Protected Characteristics of their parents or other family members.
- 1.6 This policy recognises the four types of unlawful behaviour. Appendix 1 provides these definitions.
- 1.7 Every possible step will be taken into account in the aim of ensuring individuals are treated fairly and decisions are based on objective criteria.

2. Links with other policies or legislation

- 2.1 This policy and its ethos applies to every policy, procedure and guidance document that is produced in relation to pupils, staff, parents and governance.
- 2.2 The following policies are particularly relevant to achieving the objectives of this policy:
 - School's SEN policy
 - Trust Admissions policy
 - School's Anti-bullying policy
 - School's Behaviour for Learning policy
 - School's Students with Medical Needs Policy
 - School's Accessibility plans
 - All of the Trust's employment policies

2.3 This document meets the requirements under the following legislation:

- The Equality Act 2010, which introduced the public sector equality duty and protects people from discrimination
- The Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties and Public Authorities) Regulations 2017 which require schools to publish information annually to demonstrate how they are complying with the public sector equality duty and to publish equality objectives

This document is also based on Department for Education (DfE) guidance: The Equality Act 2010 and schools.

3. Specific Duties under the Public Sector Equality Duty

3.1 Under the Act the Trust is required to meet the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) and to have due regard to:

- Eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and other conduct that is prohibited by the Act.
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
- Foster good relations across all protected characteristics between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

3.2 The following specific duties apply:

- To publish information which demonstrates our compliance with the need to have due regard for the three aims of the PSED
- To prepare and publish specific and measurable objectives which we will pursue over the coming years to achieve the three aims.

3.3 While making a decision that might affect an equality group, the decision-maker must have regard to the three aims of the Act at the time. This cannot be done in retrospect, nor can it be delegated. The duty will be exercised with rigour and with attention to relevant evidence, including that derived from consultation with staff and the wider community. The duty is continuing, so we will revisit it and bear it in mind constantly.

4 Equality Statement

4.1 The Trust will ensure that equal opportunities and the principles of fairness underpin all aspects of policy, procedure, education provision, consultation and decision-making.

4.2 The Trust is committed to equality in its delivery of education, whether or not the service is directly provided by us or contracted to a third party provider. Senior leaders will monitor this education provision to ensure that students acquire the skills which enable them to be proactive in their behaviour and learning and to become responsible citizens.

4.3 We aim to provide high quality education provision, making sure provision is easily accessible. We will improve what we do by continuing to consult with staff, students, parents, Trustees, Governors, local communities and other partners about equality issues.

We will promote our equal opportunities policy in our contact with parents, staff, governors and external organisations.

- 4.4 We will make every effort in creating equality of opportunity in order to ensure they are accessible and fair to everyone. Every person has the right to be treated fairly, regardless of race, gender, sexuality, disability, age, culture, religion, nationality or caring responsibilities. Where necessary we will implement reasonable adjustments or additional support, to ensure equality of access to an education and suitable learning and working environments.
- 4.5 Our staff, Trustees and governors who plan, agree and deliver our education provision will recognise diversity and demonstrate a proactive approach in their day-to-day work. They will ensure that everyone is treated fairly, recognising special education or physical needs and understanding differences. Behaviour will reach our high standards of conduct (staff and pupils) and the learning environment we provide will be safe and accessible for those studying and working.
- 4.6 The Trust will adhere to statutory legislation and give consideration to other relevant guidance, which aims to make sure that everyone is treated equitably. We will work with other people and organisations to encourage fair treatment of all. We will collect information, which will help us plan and develop services to meet the special needs of all members of the community.
- 4.7 The Trust will not tolerate any form of discriminatory behaviour against members of the trust or local community.

4.8 Employment

- 4.8.1 The Trust is committed to ensuring that employees have equal access to recruitment and career opportunities, training, and professional development.
- 4.8.2 The Trust recognises that the Act extends beyond the protected characteristics of an individual employee and has broader responsibilities to employees and situations that maybe covered by the Act. For example, an employee with parental or caring responsibilities for a disabled dependent may have rights under the Act which the Trust, as their employer, would need to consider.
- 4.8.3 All recruitment will be within the provisions of the Act, and applications will be monitored to report on recruitment activity, in line with the Act.
- 4.8.4 We will make every effort in creating equality of opportunity for employees, ensuring these are accessible and fair to all. Where necessary we will implement reasonable adjustments or additional support, to ensure equality of access to the working environment and opportunity to undertake the job role successfully.
- 4.8.5 HR policies and procedures will be reviewed regularly to improve, adapt or amend current practices to promote equality of opportunities and encourage diversity within our workplaces. All HR and employment policies will be applied consistently and fairly and refer to the provisions of the Act 2010.
- 4.8.6 Employees who are in breach of this policy will be dealt with under the staff disciplinary policy.

4.9 Provisions for Pupils

- 4.9.1 The school will ensure that students are provided with appropriate support to recognise their individual needs. This includes protection under the Act extending the reasonable adjustment duty to require schools to provide auxiliary aids and services to disabled students.
- 4.9.2 Protection under the Act is extended to students who are pregnant, have recently given birth or are undergoing gender reassignment.
- 4.9.3 All policies relating to the provision of education, the curriculum, behaviour for learning, attendance, exclusion, medical treatment and Child Protection and safeguarding policies should consider the provisions and duties of the Act.

4.10.1 Contractors and service providers

- 4.10.1 Across the Trust we will ensure that all service providers that are contracted to provide services to students, staff or visitors will comply with Equalities legislation.
- 4.10.2 Where services are deemed not to meet these standards, in relation to equal opportunities and fairness, contracts may be terminated.
- 4.10.3 Provision will be made within Service Level Agreements between the Trust, or an individual school and service providers or contractors, that will ensure that services are made available, with due regard for fairness and equality.

5. Positive Action

- 5.1 Positive action provisions allow the trust to target measures that are designed to alleviate disadvantages experienced by, or to meet the particular needs of, students with particular protected characteristics. Such measures will need to be a proportionate way of achieving the relevant aim.

6. Equality Objectives

Our equality objectives are based on our analysis of data and other information. They focus on those areas where we have agreed to take action to improve equality and opportunity. The Partnership Trust has set out the following equality objectives for the next three years. Objectives 1-4 and actions to achieve them are further detailed in school improvement plans.

Objective 1 - In relation to Achievement:

- We are committed to improving the attainment of disadvantaged groups of students, including students with Special Educational Needs, students with disabilities and those entitled to Free School Meals so that the gap between their attainment and that of other students is narrowed.
- We will aim to raise aspirations among children and young people, their parents and communities and raise awareness of career and higher education opportunities, to challenge stereotypes.

Details of how we plan to achieve this objective are set out in the individual school's development plans.

The Trust Executive and Trust Board will monitor and analyse pupil achievement at all schools and across the Trust and act on any trends or patterns in the data that require additional support for pupils to achieve these aims.

The School's Local Governing Body will monitor at individual school level.

Objective 2 - In relation to Teaching and Learning:

- We will ensure that our curriculum (including our programme of enrichment and extra-curricular activities) is actively broad and balanced and provides opportunities for all students and promotes understanding between different groups of people, cultures and societies.
- Our curriculum will include an element of PHSE education that tackles stereotypes and challenges student's perceptions.
- We will ensure that the promotion of our Christian values and British values through our curriculum. This will support and develop our students into responsible citizens of the future.

Details of how we plan to achieve this objective are set out in the individual school's development plans.

The Trust executive will monitor through their school improvement visits the content of the curriculum to ensure that it achieves these aims and will act on any information that indicates additional support is required.

The School's Local Governing Body will monitor at individual school level.

Objective 3 - In relation to Behaviour and Safety:

- We will maintain a rigorous anti-bullying stance so that all students and staff, including those with protected characteristics, are protected from harassment and discrimination of all kinds.
- Our behaviour for learning policies will outline how we will deal with students who use discriminatory homophobic or otherwise offensive language.

All schools will have in place clear Anti –bullying and Behaviour for Learning Policies. Staff will receive training in these policies at least once per year.

The Trust Executive will monitor the effectiveness of these policies through their School Improvement Support and report to the Trust Board.

Individual Local Governing Bodies will monitor this at individual school level.

Objective 4 - In relation to Leadership and Management:

- We will demonstrate our commitment to equality and diversity through consistent application of our policies and procedures.
- We will ensure that our systems for recruiting, retaining and managing staff (and potential applicants) support all those in groups protected by the Equalities Act.
- We will endeavour to raise levels of parental and pupil engagement in learning and school life, across all activities, including regular attendance to ensure equity and fairness in access and engagement. We will aim to raise aspirations among children and parents and raise awareness of career options for all children, challenging gender stereotypes.

Details of how we plan to achieve this:

We will ensure that when considering the recruitment of Governors and Trustees we will give consideration to equality and diversity and representation of the schools which are represented to include equal representation of gender and increased representation of those with protected characteristics.

We will ensure that all staff and governors are aware of current legislation relating to equality and diversity and that all governors and staff understand the Trust's responsibility in this area

We will undertake equality assessments in relation to new policies

We will analyse and report to the Trust Board on equality and diversity, including through the Gender Pay Gap Report

7. Consultation

7.1 The Trust and its schools recognise the importance of the taking into account of people's differing experiences, needs, histories and of the differing challenges and barriers which they may face. Appendix 1 direct discrimination, indirect discrimination, harassment and victimisation.

The Equality Act 2010 defines four kinds of unlawful behaviour:

- Direct discrimination occurs when one person treats another less favourably, because of a protected characteristic, than they treat, or would treat, other people. This describes the most clear-cut and obvious examples of discrimination – for example if a school were to refuse to let a student be a prefect because she is gay, or an employee was refused a promotion because of their race.
- Indirect discrimination occurs when a “provision, criterion or practice” is applied generally but has the effect of putting people with a particular characteristic at a disadvantage when compared to people without that characteristic. An example might be holding a parents’ meeting on a Friday evening, which could make it difficult for observant Jewish parents to attend, or arranging the weekly CPD sessions for teachers on days when no part-time staff are available for work.

It is a defence against a claim of indirect discrimination if it can be shown to be “a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim”. This means both that the reason for the rule or practice is legitimate, and that it could not reasonably be achieved in a different way which did not discriminate.

- Harassment has a specific legal definition in the Act - it is “unwanted conduct, related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating a person’s dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that person”. This covers unpleasant and bullying behaviour, but potentially extends also to actions which, whether intentionally or unintentionally, cause offence to a person because of a protected characteristic.

Where schools are concerned, the offence of harassment as defined in this way in the Act applies only to harassment because of disability, race, sex or pregnancy and maternity, and not to religion or belief, sexual orientation or gender reassignment. It is very important to recognise that this does not mean that schools are free to bully or harass pupils on these other grounds - to do so would still be unlawful as well as unacceptable. Any case against the school would be on grounds of direct discrimination rather than harassment.

- Victimisation occurs when a person is treated less favourably than they otherwise would have been because of something they have done (“a protected act”) in connection with the Act.

A protected act might involve, for example, making an allegation of discrimination or bringing a case under the Act, or supporting another person’s complaint by giving evidence or information, but it includes anything that is done under or in connection with the Act. Even if what a person did or said was incorrect or misconceived, for example based on a misunderstanding of the situation or of what the law provides, they are protected against retaliation unless they were acting in bad faith. The reason for this is to ensure that people are not afraid to raise genuine concerns about discrimination because of fear of retaliation. As well as it being unlawful to victimise a person who does a protected act, a child must not be victimised because of something done by their parent or a sibling in relation to the Act. This means that a child must not be made to suffer in any way because, for example, her mother has made a complaint of sex discrimination against the school, or her brother has claimed that a teacher is bullying him because he is gay, whether or not the mother or brother was acting in good faith. If a pupil has himself or herself done a protected act – such as making a complaint of discrimination against a teacher – then the child’s own good faith will be relevant. For example, if the parent’s complaint is based on information from her son and the son was deliberately lying, it is not victimisation for the school to punish him in the same way as it might do any other dishonest pupil. Unless it can be clear that the mother was also acting in bad faith (for example that she knew her son was lying) it would still be unlawful to victimise her for pursuing the complaint.
