What is a toy?

A toys is a playful object used by children for entertainment. They are often smaller versions of things such as: toy cars, baby dolls, toy soldiers and much more.

Why have toys changed?

Victorian toys were usually hand made from wood, metal, paper or china. This meant they took a long time to make so were expensive to make.

Now we make toys from mostly plastic and can be produced easily in a factory so are cheaper and quicker to make.

Did you know?

More toys are being made from wood again as it is better for the environment than plastic! The Rubik's cube made in 1974 is the most popular toy in history selling over 350 million.
